CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

RE Camp Confederate Veterans held their regular monthly meeting at their hall last night with a large attendance of members. Commander Smoot presiding. A communication from the A. F. Hill Camp of Petersburg, in reference to the monument to be placed at Gettysburg, Pa., by the state of Virginia, was read and their action concurred in and the delegates of the camp were instructed to vote for the same.

The communication read as follows:

TO HONOR THE PRIVATE SOLDIER.
At a meeting of A. F. Hill Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, Petersburg, Va., the following resolutions were presented by Captain George J. Rogers and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, a committee has been appointed by the governor, of which he is chairman, for the purpose of placing a monument at Gettysburg, Pa., by this state, to her sons in the Army of Northern Virginia;

Whereas, the sub-stratum of the foundation upon which that mighty structure known as "The Army of Northern Virginia" was erected and maintained was the character of the private soldier; therefore, be it

Resolved by A. F. Hill Camp, No. 1, of Petersburg, Va.:

That we deem it fitting and appropriate that the monument to be placed by Virginia at Gettysburg, Pa., should especially exalt and evidence to future generations the heroic valor, the unsurpassed devotion to principle and duty, and the matchless courage and gallantry—which on that particular field won the admiration even of the enemy—of the private soldier of our Army of Northern Virginia. He crowned himself with glory in her defense—let the state crown him with honor in his death.

That a copy of this preamble and resolution be sent by this camp to the governor of the state, to each member of the Gettysburg monument committee, to the Grand Commanders of the Veterans, Sons of Veterans, and Daughters of the Confederacy of this state, for their consideration and action.

That a copy of those resolutions be presented by the representatives of this camp to the grand camp, at its meeting in October, requesting action thereon.

The following comrades were elected delegates to the Grand Camp: Booker Hall, Alexander Lyles, J. B. Spicer and John R. Zimmermann, after which several articles on war subjects were read.

The Grand Commandery of the state of Virginia will hold its annual convocation there for the first time in twenty-six years. DeMolay Commandery, of Lynchburg, and Bayard of Roanoke, will visit Dove Commandery at Danville. These commanderies will come to Danville to assist in escorting the Grand Commandery and at the same time to receive their annual inspection by the representatives of the grand commander, DeMolay, No. 4, will be inspected by R. GOOD ROADS.

The survey of the highway to be constructed between Alexandria and Washington, and the necessary data connected with it, has been sent to P. St. Julien Wilson, state highway commissioner of Virginia, by County Engineer George E. Garrett, of Alexandria county, and Mr. Wilson's estimate of the cost of construction is expected in a few weeks. President Julian W. Williams, of the Alexandria Good Roads Association, stated last night that on receipt of this estimate the Alexandria branch of the good roads association would begin an active campaign for the purpose of raising funds, and both Alexandria and Washington merchants, who have been seriously inconvenienced and put to heavy expense since the ferry service between this city and Washington was discontinued, are expected to contribute liberally toward the project.

THE CHILDHOOD OF JESUS.

Interest in the entertaining and instructive series of lectures now being delivered by Madame Mounford is deepening. A large audience assembled at the Washington Street M. E. Church Sunday last night, to hear the lecture on "The Childhood of Jesus." She spoke of the visit of the wise men from the east, and of the flight into Egypt. With the assistance of little Marion Henshaw she vividly portrayed the scene of Christ among the doctors, at the age of twelve. Tonight her subject will be, "The Manhood and Ministry of Jesus."

FIRST CLASS VAUDEVILLE

When one pronounces a show first class he should know whereof he speaks. If the one at the Opera House isn't good then the swell crowd that attended last night and applauded to the echo every act did not know what they were doing. The dancing and singing of Miss Ethel Talbott was great. The Eckharts were as fine as ever seen in this house, and Harry Barton, in his musical act, was a star in his line. Entire change of pictures and a complete change in a portion of the vaudeville tonight.

At the surprise a large crowd greeted the excellent vaudeville which will be put on the first three nights of this week.

Leon Smoot, the illusionist and magician, is a star of the first order and greatly pleased his audience. Leroy and Eloise, buck and wing dancers were at their best, and Leroy and Scottie, the acrobats, kept the people in a nervous state by their marvelous work.

FUNERAL.

The remains of the late Rev. Francis M. Borch, who died in Philadelphia on Saturday morning last, were brought to this city this evening and interred in the lot of the late J. H. D. Smoot in St. Paul's cemetery. The remains reached the union station at 3:52 this evening and were borne at once to St. Paul's Cemetery, where they were committed by Rev. P. P. Phillips, of St. Paul's Church. The funeral ceremony was held at St. Paul's Church, Philadelphia, this morning.
